

The National Day of Listening is November 25, 2011.

StoryCorps national day of listening®

Celebrate by recording and preserving interviews with the people you care about.

On the day after Thanksgiving, StoryCorps asks all Americans to take an hour to record an interview with a loved one, such as a favorite relative, friend, teacher, or someone from the neighborhood. You can use recording equipment readily available in most homes—such as computers, iPhones, tape recorders, or pen and paper.

Our free online resources will make the recording process as easy and enjoyable as possible, giving you the opportunity to capture your family history, favorite stories, and memories for generations to come.

About StoryCorps

StoryCorps is a national nonprofit organization whose mission is to provide Americans of all backgrounds and beliefs with the opportunity to record, share, and preserve the stories of our lives. Since 2003, tens of thousands of Americans have recorded interviews through StoryCorps, and millions listen to our weekly broadcasts on NPR's Morning Edition and at storycorps.org.

STEP 1

Download our free Do-It-Yourself Instruction Guide

It offers step-by-step instructions for recording and preserving interviews at home or in your community.

STEP 2

Listen to stories

Find inspiration by listening to interviews from the StoryCorps collection.

STEP 3

Share your experience

After you record your interview, tell us about your experience on the Wall of Listening.

Visit nationaldayoflistening.org to get started!